

500 BC

The sea was at its lowest recorded level - three feet below its present level.
It was then that the Greek and Phoenician civilization reached their peaks